COLUMBIA FACULTY OPPOSES THANKSGIVING DAY GAME.

Students Want Their Eleven to Meet the Indians on That Day-Outline of Local Varsity's Next Campaign - Considine Asks Questions-Brooklyn Players Sign.

Unless the Faculty of Columbia University recedes from its present attitude there will be no football game in this city next Thanksgiving Day between the Columbia 'Varsity eleven and the Carlisle Indians. Some time ago the University Football Association was notified that such a game would not be allowed because of religious scruples, and there has been much speculation among the undergraduates ever since. At a mass meeting of the students, held the other day, a committee, consisting of undergraduates Giddings, Dickinson and Le Prince was appointed to set forth in writing an argument in favor of a Thanksgiving Day game and it is understood the matter will be again considered by the Faculty. The Indians are anxious to play here again on that date and the college football authorities are equally desirous of meeting the public demand for the battle as well as reaping profitable receipts which are inevitable. Before the Indians applied for the game the Columbia men made a strong effort to arrange a match with Harvard for Thanksgiving Day to be played in this city, but word was received from Cambridge that it would be impossible to reach an agreement. In fact Harvard is in such a position as regards opponents that the Crimson eleven will be unable to arrange any game with Columbia for next fall, at least. It is also probable that Cornell will sever relations with Columbia owing to a dispute that has been going on for some time. Columbia offered Nov. 17 to Cornell and asked the Ithacans to play in this city. Cornell promptly refused and said that if Columbia would not play this year at Ithaca it was useless to continue negotiations. As Columbia did not see with the powerful University of Michigan eleven to take place here. It has been arranged to open the season the last week in September with the Walton eleven up in the Catskills. Then the local Varsity eleven will tackle Rutgers in this city, Wesleyan following on Oct. 6. Williams will come here probably on Oct. 13, and a week later, on Oct. 20, Columbia will visit Philadelphia to line up against the University of Pennsylvania. This game is really one of Co'umbia's best matches, and as Philadelphia will probably turn out in bulk, there will probably turn out in bulk, there will be plenty of money to bring home. The game with the Yale 'Varsity, another star event, will take place in this city on Oct. 27. As Columbia defeated Yale last year, unusual interest is centred in this contest. No date has as yet been agreed upon with Princeton, but Nov. 3 is acceptable to Columbia. Stevens Institute will probably play up in Harlem on Wednesday, Nov. 6, while the game at Annapolis may fall on Nov. 17. If it is found impossible to play on Thanksgiving Day, Columbia will take the Indians on for either the Saturday before or after that date.

It has been decided that there will be no preliminary training trip next fall. Coach

It has been decided that there will be no preliminary training trip next fall. Coach Foster Sanford will call a meeting of the various candidates in about three weeks when spring practice will begin on the field opposite the university library. In all about one hundred and fifty men will answer the call, not including, of course, the freshman material to be looked over in September. Former Capt, Wilson is still in college, but will be including he satisfied next season. He will assist Sanford with the coaching, however, Of the regulars who placed last full these men remain: Weekes, Moriey, Denman, Berrlan, Stuart, Neidlinger, McKaskell, Slocovitch, Knapp, Smyth, Miller, Bruce and Wright, Longacre will leave for the West in a few days to go into business. Capt, Simons, who was out of the game because of injuries all last season, will also be on deck. Altogether, Columbia has bright prospects for another good team.

ganized Intercollegiate Gynenastic Association held an important meeting in this city vesterday. Those present were W. L. Cus, Yale: T. Mountain, Princeton; W. B. Rich, University of Pennsylvania; W. T. Stroud, University of Virginia and W. E. Mitchell, Columbia. It was decided to hold the first championship meeting in the Columbia symmasium on March 23. Events in club swinging and side horse will be decided in the afternoon of that day, beginning at 3 o'clock. In the evening, at 8 o'clock, contasts will be held on the horizontal b.r. parallel bars, flying rings and in tumbling. There will also be a special event in which contestants will display various feats. The committee has been assured that teams will compete representing Harvard, Vale, Princeton, Cornell, University of Pennsylvania, Columbia, Rutgers, New York University, University of Virginia, University of Wisconsin, University of Michigan, Union, Swarthmore, Haverford, Pennsylvania State, Trinity, Boston and Wesleyan. It will be the first meeting of its size and scope ever held in this country. Entries close on March I with W. E. Mitchell of Columbia, the President of the association.

The officials of the Brooklyn Baseball Club announced last night that they have signed the following members of the champion team: Joe Relley, John Anderson, Jimmy Casey, Bill Dahlen, Tom Daly, Bill Hill, Donovan, Roaring Bill Kennedy, Doctor McJames, Steelman and Yeager. Word comes from Worcester that Farrell has also signed. There are only a few of Hanlon's men outside the fold now, and in due time the team will be taken to Augusta for the usual limbering-up process. In the meantime the New York club's affairs are at a standstill. Nobody knows where the team will get into trim and even the make-up is a question that cannot be answered. Ewing, the prospective manager, favors New Orleans as a training resort, but when the time comes he will probably be informed that the air up at the Polo grounds is much more beneficial. Friends of Ewing say that the veteran manager has not fully made up his mind yet whether it is to his advantage to take up the reins that have been dropped by Davis, Doyle, Watkins, Irwin, Joyce, Anson, Dav and Hoey, all of whom have attempted to manage the New Yorks since Freedman took hold of them.

To-day is the usual date for the annual spring meeting of the National League of Professional Baseball Clubs, but the magnates are not here, for the reason that the Circuit Committee is quite securely tied up by the unwillingness of H. R. Von der Horst to sell the Baltimore franchise. Von der Horst to sell the Baltimore franchise. Von der Horst has shown conclusively that he is not a quitter, and it is good betting that if the circuit is finally reduced it will be at his terms, instead of in accordance with the views of the League's Boss. The troubles of the magnates have been increased by a row in Chicago which is a fair illustration of baseball methods.

Baseball Notes. been increased by a row in Chicago which is a fair illustration of baseball methods. Lax fall when the New American Association, engineered by Quin and Anson, was first talked of, Ban Johnson, President of the American Eegue, or sassured by several National League, magnates that he could place a club in Chicago with the consent of Hart, President of the Chicago League club. Johnson says that Hart readily gave his consent when the matter was referred to him and that in view of it Comiskey made arrangements to transfer his St. Paul feam to the Windy City. This move was merely intended by the magnates to balk Anson, who wanted to place an Association club in Chicago and incidentally to keep Johnson for line with the National agreement forces. Johnson remained loyal to the National League all through the scheming of the Association bubble burst, Johnson south Association bubble burst, Johnson lound that he had been misled. He was mformed the other day that Hart had withdrawn his consent for an American League club in Chicago and that if Comiskey moved in the rewould be a baseball war. Johnson however, says he has the support of the magnates, including Freedman, and that Hart will be forced to back down. Comiskey-says that he has secured grounds in Chicago and while, so that his chances for receiving a throw down are bright. The word of a baseball magnate, nowadys, does not carry much weight.

Steve McClave, the Trinity School boy, who played in the Yale game at New Haven, is trying for the team.

Regarding the howl that is made by some persons because Walcott made a chopping block of Choynski last week, Manager Consi-ding of the Broadway A. C. asks these few perthent questions:
"Why didn't Choynski complain of a broken

"If he had a broken rib before he left Chicago after whipping Maher, why did he come to New York at all?

"Why didn't he tell his friends in the club on Friday night, who were offering 5 to 1 on his chances, that he had a broken rib, was suffering from the grip and couldn't win?

"Why did he tell his friends, when he arrived from Chicago, that he was in fine trim and would whip Walcott easily?

"Why doesn't he tell the truth and say that he was afraid to fight until O'Rourke let him have 75 per cent, of half the gate?

"Can Choynski square himself with those who know him by saying that he wilfully took a chance with his reputation as a puglist by getting into the ring with Walcott when he was ill and there was not a big house present?"

C. C. McConville, who coached the University of Wisconsin crew so successfully last year, has received an offer to handle the crew of St. Johu's Military Academy at Delafield. The Budgers will be coached this year by Andy O'Dea, who was at Harvard a part of last season. The Knickerbocker A. C. May flold the A A. U. Championship Again Next Year. It was learned yesterday that the Knickerbocker A. C. came out about even as a financial result of the recent Class A and B billiard championship tournaments of the A. A. U. which were held under the club's auspices. Last season the club lost about $6,000, and it was hinted that if this season's events proved as disastrous finanteally as the preceding ones some other club of A. A. U. proclivities would have to handle the billiard tourneys in future. But, happily, the scheme of issuing invitations was done away with for the recent championhips, and enthusiasts were required to pay their way to witness the matches, as is the case in other branches of amateur sport. As a resuit, while the club lost $208 on the Class B tourney it made $212 on the Class A event, and feels willing to handle the championships again next year in case no other club desires the privilega.

and feels willing to handle the chamiconships again next year in case no other club desires the privilege.

Dr. A. B., Ranney, secretary of the A. A. U. Billiard Committee, to whose efforts the success of the last championships are largely due, has all along been anxious to have the events held in different cities every year instead of their being continually decided in New York, his idea being that the sport would increase in popularity by such a move. He is anxious to see the next championships held in Chicago or Boston, but said vesterday that the K. A. C. would come to the front again if necessary.

"Treceived a letter yesterday from an officer of the Chicago A. A.," said Dr. Ranney to Tas. Sur. reporter, "asking if the Knickerbocker A. C. wanted to handle the billiards next season. I replied that I would prafer to see Chicago hold them, but that the Knickerbocker A. C. would do so if no other club applied for the sanction. McCreevy of St. Louis also wrote me yesterday. He said he would not come to New York next year to compete in the Class A tourney, but if the matches were played in Chicago ho would go there and participate. He says he is still in poor health."

Billiard Notes.

Chicago, Feb. 26.—Arrangements for a sweep-stake billiard tournament at three-cushion carrons were concluded at Green's avademy we terlay, when Schafer, Carton, Cater, Sutton, Jeans and Capron posted 5:5 each of the $100 state with Clarence Green. Each game will be 150 points up, and the present plan is to begin play on March 5.

Company F of the Seventh Regiment won the Capt. Henry S. Steele trophy at the armory ranges on Saturday night, after a tie on actual scores with Company C, the ho'der. The trophy, which is open to teams of five from each company, is shot for twice each season and awarded to the makers of the greatest aggregate score. Company C had the lead by one point when the firing began on Saturday, but Company P evened up matters and obtained possession of the prize on adjulication of the cards. Seven shots were fired standing at 200 yards and seven prone. The trophy will become the property of the company winning it three times, not necessarily in succession. The score of the winning team follows: COMPANY P.

NEWS OF THE WHEELMEN.

THE INTERNATIONAL CYCLISTS' ASSO-CLATION DROPS THE L. A. W.

Substitutes the National Cycling Association as a Member-Weekly Run Suggested for League Men-Expected to Bring Many Recruits Into the Organization. After a two days' session that began at Paris on Saturday, the International Cyclists' Association yesterday dropped the League of American Wheelmen from its membership list and substituted the National Cycling Association. The I. C. A. is composed of the organizations in control of eyele racing in every civilized country of the world, and the action taken at Paris means that the N. C. A. will be recognized hereafter as the body in sole control of cycle racing in America. Incident to the decision was a resolution that all foreign organizations shall grant full amnesty to all riders who have been penalized by either the L. A. W. or the N. C. A. The meeting that concluded yester ay was a special one of the Executive Committee, at which it was predicted in THE SUNIAST full that the N. C. A. would be recognized. J. A. Blaurock, the newly elected President of the

N. C. A., was present to urge the admission to membership of the formerly "outlaw" body of America. According to cable advices received last night it was a lively meeting and perhaps a stormy one. The course of position on the part of a majority of delegates to favor the N.C.A., but Henry K Sturmey, the Honorable Secretary who has exercised for years a dominating influence of the organization, remained loyal to the L. A. W., whose cause he has espoused since the heginning of the racing routele here. He hadopted obstructionist tactics, and on Saturday it was voted not to take action on the N. C. A. application until official notification had been received that the L. A. Whad abandoned racing and withdrawn from the field. A cable sent to League officials brought a reply to the effect that it had withdrawn. Evan after that Sturmey kept up the floth. He proposed that the L. A. W. he recognized as still having affiliation with the L. C. A., and that the racing men of this country be placed on the same basis as those of Germany, where there is no organize body in control of the sport, although one is forming. This was vote to down and the question as to the propriety of orent Britain being tenresented in the international congress by six votes, two each from England, Ireland and Scotland, came up, it was proposed that the three countries should all be considered as Great Britain and be entitled to only two delectates. This incensed Sturmey and a warm passage followed, in which Sturmey either offered to resign or was invited to do so. The cable message fores not make it clear which. The motion to limit Great Britain's representation to two was laid on the table autil the next assembly. The cesuat of the meeting is that all American riders will be recognized at the Faris world's championships, except those disqualified by the N. C. A. after to-day and it looks very much as it Sturmey's away in the international congress has been broken. exercised for years a dominating influence of

A meeting of the Executive Committee of the New York State Division was begun yesterday and adjourned until Saturday. It was decided that the L.A. W. would not take any official etion in relation to the amendments proposed in the Legislature to the Sidepath law, for the reason that the Commissioners of the State are best qualified to judge in regard to the matter. One incident of much interest was the receipt of a suggestion from Clarence A. Skedd, a local consul. The plan submitted is one that it is thought will add a great interest to the riding in this section and bring many recruits to the League, so it is being carefully considered. In outline it consists of having a weekly run of from twenty to ferty nitles for League members and perhaps their friends. The idea would be to start from some central and accessible point, such as Twenty-sixth street and Madison avenue, at about 10 o'clock Sinday morning and return at sundown, leaving an interval of two or three hours for dimer. It is thought that this will accommodate a great many who would like to visit points of interest about New Jersey, Staten Island and Long Island yet are unfamiliar with the rentes. The club runs are, as a rule, too long and at too fast a pace for many riders, and, besides, there are a hundred who are not club members for one that is, and many of them, it is thought, would like the chance of having a leader who knows the best roads to the scores of pleasant places within twenty miles of the city. If the plan is adopted, as it probably will be, the local consula will be pressed into service as captains for different runs, all of which will be announced before they are held.

A member of the Local Consulate of the L. A.

A member of the Local Consulate of the L. A. W. says that the merchants of Chambers street, between Broadway and West Broadway, are as anxious to see that block asphalted as are the wheelmen, horsemen and automobilists and that a petition will be circulated among them in the spring asking that the long-neglected book, on which are the same cobiles that were laid years ago, receive attention. The block is the missing link between the asyhalt routes uptown of the East and West Side. Visitors to the city, whether on a blocke or in a carriage, who come down town to see the public buildings must be joited over the block before they can cross and return on the other side of town as it is generally desired to do. If it was paved those who come down down own in the East Side could reach the Je ev City ferries, and those who come down on the West Side could reach the Bridge with much greater facility. While there is little probability that he will begin service until the weather permits outdoor rowing to begin, it may be that he will train the men for some time in the Hemenway gymnassum before hand. Vail has engaged permanent quarters here and seems prepared to make a campaign of it. HOCKEY.

Yale Defeats Harvard by One Goal at the St. Nicholas Rink.

Yale won the hockey game at the St. Nicholas rink last night, defeating Harvard by 5 goals to 4. The rink was erowded with the followers of the two universities, and each team was heartily cheered for good plays. Before play began there was quite a little betting, Harvard being favorite at 10 to 7. The Yale men were very confident and accepted the odds whenever they Inman and Goodrich faced off when Referee Callender blew his whistle and the game be-For a few minutes the puck was sent up and down the rink and the players on each side seemed to be warming up. Then Yale made an attack, and in the scrimmage Rumsey got hurt and had to retire. Hoxie took his place. This was rather an unfortunate beginning for Harvard, but as soon as play was resumed Goodrich and Beardsale rushed the puck towar! Yale's goal, but Smith made a good stop and there was no scoring. Then Yale took the aggressive, but the Harvard goal ke-per was too wide awake. After about twelve minutes of play. Goodrich snatched the puck from in front of Harvard's goal, rushed it down the rink and scored unnuded. This seemed to wake the Yale men up, and as soon as the puck was put in play again Coxe and Bronson, by a series of pretty passes, took the puck toward Harvard's goal and then sent it to Walworth, who shat a goal and then sent it to Walworth, who shat a goal and the the score. Just before the half endet Vale scores again. The play was in front of Harvard's goal. Inman took a charec for a goal and was successful, the puck striking a Harvard man's leg and shooting between the posts.

In the secondary of the posts. the puck striking a harvard mans leg and shooting between the posts.

In the secondail Harvard started in to rush things and Goodrech scored the first goal unnited. This it tied the secondain, placing harvard in the lead. The cheering was dearning and the crimson colors were wavel all around the rink. Yale soon made things interesting again and fromson shot a goal on a pass by Campbell. Shortly alterward Inman second out of a serium ge and then Waleworth shot a goal on a rass by Campbell. These gave Yale a leaf of two goals, but just before the call of time humsey second for Harvard. The teams lined up as follows:

Annual Race Meeting of the Country Club

ot Brookline. Boston, Peb. 28. -One of the features of the annual meeting of the Country Club of Brookline during the last week of May will probably be a match steeplechase race between teams representing Myopia Hunt Club of Hamiton and the Norfolk Hunt Club of Dedham. It is quite likely that the contest will become an annual feature, for it is proposed that the challenge . u . lobe won three years, to become the permanent property of one or the other of the contesting team . The programme for the nineteenth annual meeting has been issued. It will be a three days' affair under National Steeplechase and Huct Association rules, the dates being May 26, 28 and 30. Entries close on March 15. The conditions governing the races are as follows: naces are as lonows:
